

MAXIMUM...

November 24, 2009 – Issue 30

MAXFACT #33

People appreciate people who appreciate them. – Alan Snook

Everyone likes to feel that they make a difference.

Thank those who make a difference in your world. And be assured that YOU are making a real difference for others as well.

If you have questions or comments about today's Appreciation message, please contact us at...

www.maximumbizconsult.com

(717) 755-5419

MAXIMUM
Business Consulting, LLC
a mentor capital firm

...APPRECIATION

Thanksgiving....Thanks Giving.

Who do you need to thank? Your family, friends, customers, coworkers, vendors, subcontractors, professional support, others?

Purposefully imagine each individual. Picture their faces, personalities, quirks, and their value to you. And for those who you can, actually say “thanks” to them. These are the people who help you to succeed in every walk of your life.

Make this Thanksgiving an appropriately productive one.

From all of us at MAXIMUM Business Consulting, we genuinely thank YOU for reading our memos, engaging our services, trusting our input, and being our friends.

May you and your family truly enjoy a meaningful Thanks Giving holiday celebration.

Ponder This...

Is it a sign of weakness or strength to be sincere and grateful?

We invite you to share this memo with a friend or colleague.